

E-EDITION EXTRA

In today’s Extra edition, an online extra online bonus for subscribers, features a collection of our editors. Check it out at providencejournal.com.

NATION: Off the Georgia coast, a decades-old marine sanctuary is a template for protecting the ocean. But with only 1.5% of the world’s ocean protected, the ocean might not be enough to preserve marine ecosystems.

BUSINESS: China’s e-commerce giant Alibaba’s shares jumped 6.4% Thursday, followed by gains in Wall Street stocks. On Tuesday, a spurt started at a time when the former British colony is working on the project.

NOAH: The Providence Preservation Society’s preservation staff says the burial ground contains about 2,000 people. Headstones for enslaved and freed African Americans from the 1700s to the early 1900s are the only African Americans in the United States. The Providence Preservation Society’s preservation staff says the burial ground contains about 2,000 people. Headstones for enslaved and freed African Americans from the 1700s to the early 1900s are the only African Americans in the United States.

THE LOTTERIES

TUESDAY WINNERS

Conn. Classic Lotto: 1-5-7-23-28 $2 million • 8-27-29-38-40-49 $621,842

Conn. Day Play Three: 1-8-24 $109,279 • 2-3-18 $66,364

Conn. Classic Lotto: 1-5-7-23-28 $2 million • 8-27-29-38-40-49 $621,842

Conn. Day Play Three: 1-8-24 $109,279 • 2-3-18 $66,364

Conn. Cash Five: $138,591

Ill. Lottery: 7-9-22-24-26 $23,128

NEWSPAPER Deluxe – $2.50

Schools closed closed

Social services closed closed

Taverns varies varies

Taverns (food) closed closed

Taverns (food) closed closed

Thrift stores closed closed

RIPPA holiday closed closed

Federal office closed closed

Mail delivery no no

Send address changes to The Providence Journal, 75 Fountain St., Suite 200, Providence, RI 02908. Periodical postage paid at Providence, RI. USPS 968-588

LITERATES TO THE EDITOR

Letters to the editor should be no more than 150 words. They will be edited for length, grammar, clarity and style.

To send a letter: email letters@providencejournal.com.

By mail: Letters to the Editor, Providence Journal, 75 Fountain St., Suite 200, Providence, RI 02908. Please include your name, full address and phone number.

HOW TO CONTACT Peter Meyer, Publisher and President phm@providencejournal.com

Edward C. Ashen, VP & Editorial Pages Editor edashen@providencejournal.com

Debra S. Hill, VP — Information Technology dhepler@providencejournal.com

Jeffrey A. Beland, Marketing & Audience Development Director jbeland@providencejournal.com

Martin A. Jackson, Regional Finance Director mjackson@providencejournal.com

Anson Barr, Managing Editor abarr@providencejournal.com

Sara Miller, Advertising Director smiller@providencejournal.com

Eliza Ambrosini, Customer Service eliza.a.ambrosini@providencejournal.com

401-277-7000

NEWSPAPER Extra from 8:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. Monday-Friday; 8 to 11 a.m. Sunday; closed Saturdays and holidays. For subscriptions, call today or visit providencejournal.com/subscriptions.

NEWS DIGEST

Mapping underground at Colonial African burial sites

NEWPORT (AP) — The city of Newport is working with Brown University to create a map of one of the nation’s largest and most diverse African burial grounds.

The high-resolution map of God’s Little Acre will be a foundation for future site management and exploration. Data from the construction of one of the nation’s largest and most diverse African burial grounds.

The Preservation Society of Newport County says the burial ground contains about 2,000 people. Headstones for enslaved and freed African Americans from the 1700s to the early 1900s are the only African Americans in the United States.

Self-response rates were 69%, Whites at 66%.

The city wants a high-

The Preservation Society of Newport County says the burial ground contains about 2,000 people. Headstones for enslaved and freed African Americans from the 1700s to the early 1900s are the only African Americans in the United States.

The Preservation Society of Newport County says the burial ground contains about 2,000 people. Headstones for enslaved and freed African Americans from the 1700s to the early 1900s are the only African Americans in the United States.